HOSPITAL PLANS TO RUN INTO SNAG?

Proposed $60,000 extensions to the Altona Hospital in Queen Street could be delayed by up to 12 months, according to manager Mr. Peter Dwyer.

Mr. Dwyer said yesterday that although the Hospitals and Charities Commission had approved the extensions, a Government grant of $30,000 would not be forthcoming until the 1971-72 financial year.

Work on the proposed extensions is estimated to cost $53,000 with another $7000 for furnishings.

The hospital's share of the total cost is $30,000 of which $21,000 has already been raised.

Mr. Dwyer said negotiations were going on at present to determine exactly when the Government grant would be available.

"We have enough money in hand to start work next year," he said, "depending on when the grant becomes available."

The delay in the start of the extensions is a body-blow to the people who have worked behind the scenes in raising money.

It also means that any plans for a new hospital to be built on a five-acre block at the corner of Millers and Blackshaws Roads would be very premature at this stage.

Mr. Dwyer said the commission has advised the hospital committee a new hospital is planned for the Sunshine-Altona area, "but they won't say when".

In outlining the new extensions, Mr. Dwyer said the 21-bed capacity of the hospital would not be increased, but many more facilities would be made available.

The extensions include:

- Two new labor wards in mid-wifery.
- A new nursery.
- A new premature baby nursery.
- Alterations to the operating theatre to increase its size.
- A new steriliser valued at $5000.
- Improved staff and patient toilet facilities.
- New entrance doors, porch and drive.
- Additional work rooms and storage space, and
- Minor alterations to the kitchen.

"We are $7000 short of the money required for furnishings, but if a start on the extensions was made, we could manage with the furnishings we have at present," Mr. Dwyer explained.

SEAHOLME CROSSING TO BE MOVED

Altona council has agreed to comply with a request from the Seaholme Primary School committee to move a children's crossing at present situated in Civic Parade, west of Millers Road and adjacent to a shopping area.

A deputation comprising Messrs. R. Crompton, R. E. Gerring and G. Scherman met the council's general purposes committee recently.

Mr. Scherman said that complaints had been received from parents that the crossing was too dangerous, because of confusion with cars parked at the shops and backing out on to oncoming traffic.

He said the school committee felt that traffic lights at the Civic Parade-Millers Road intersection was the ultimate answer to the problem, or if this could not be arranged, a pedestrian crossing near Seves Street.

City Engineer (Mr. Ralph Simmons) explained that the installation of traffic lights did not come under council jurisdiction, but was controlled by the Traffic Commission.

He added that the council was taking regular traffic counts at the intersection to see if the Traffic Commissions' warrants could be met.

The council resolved to move the crossing a further 180 ft. west of its present position as recommended by the committee's plan.

West Gate fund still rising

Altona council's West Gate fund, which closed officially more than a week ago, is still rising.

Donations last week $20 — Couve Compoflex Pty. Ltd. $6 — Miss M. Grant, Malvern.

Mayor (Cr. Doug Grant) repeats his earlier thanks for all donations, but adds that the appeal is now closed.

A history of land development in Altona

In recognition of the part land developers have and are playing in the development of Altona, the Altona Historical Society has prepared a series of articles for publication exclusively in the Star.

The society has also arranged displays at The Homestead in Queen Street, at the Altona City Library, and the Altona West sub branch of the State Savings Bank, to be shown between November 14 and 29.

Firstly, I wish to acknowledge the help and co-operation given me by the following organisations and persons who have helped in no small way in the production of this history.

Altona City Council, Altona City Library, Altona Historical Society, Melbourne Public Library, Lands Department, Mines Department, Company Registration Office, Titles Office, Slough Estates Ltd., David Syme & Co. and former proprietors of the Altona Star, T. M. Burke Pty. Ltd., Commonwealth Bureau of Census and Statistics, Willmore and Randell, Victorian Railway Department, Country Roads Board, Lyell Howden (late manager of the Coal Mines and Altona Beach Estates Ltd.), late John Alfred, Mr. and Mrs. L. Norderne, Mr. Roy

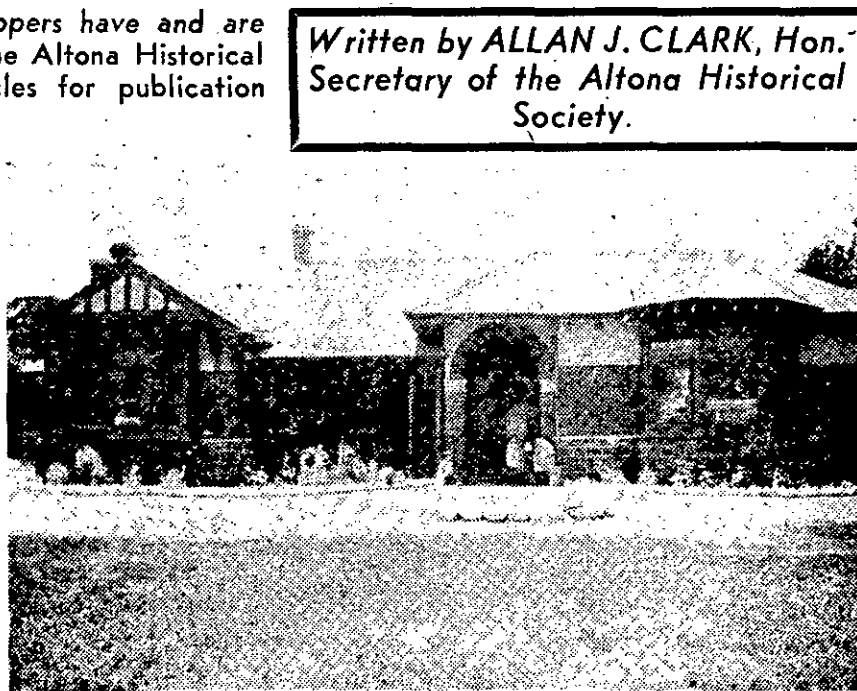

McQuade, late Herbert Clark and any others who have indirectly helped with this article.

EARLY SQUATTERS

John Batman and John Helder Wedge and the group known as "The Port Phillip Association," landed in Victoria in 1835 and bartered about 640,000 acres from the natives. Wedge, a surveyor, apportioned the area among the association's members, giving himself the area that now is Altona and Werribee.

However, the British Government refused to recognise the association's claims and the land was thrown open for smaller landholders.

ALFRED LANGHORNE was one who took advantage of this. He obtained a grant of 248 acres at what was then known as Laver-ton from the NSW Government in 1836 as Victoria was then part of that colony.

The land today is the area bounded by Civic Parade in the north, Davies Street in the east, the bay in the south and Grieve Parade in the west.

It is almost certain that he was the first white man to settle in Altona and as such can be credited to be the founder of this City.

What we know about this man is found in Pioneers of Port Phillip and is as follows: He was born in 1817. He came overland to Victoria in 1836; was overseer for Captain Lonsdale at Dandenong in 1838.

He married (Sarah) the same year and had settled on his lease (Laver-ton Truganina) and built the first portion of the homestead by 1842.

By April 16, 1849, Lang-horne held 1616 acres on lease for an annual rental of £10 ($20).

The Government Gazette of 16/6/49, shows "Altona" was enlarged at least once and possibly twice.

No reason has yet been found for the name Altona.

Alfred Langhorne died in 1874 and the property passed into the Phelps brothers' hands.

We shall return to the

These were divided into allotments based on the 640-acre square to help in administering the boundaries of the squatters.

By an act of Parliament (29/3/1848), squatters already holding leases could annex adjoining squares (pre-emptive right).

Alfred Langhorne took advantage of this law to such an extent that a description of his 1852 lease showed that his lease extended from Kororoit Creek (Tea-tree Creek as it was then known) in the east (except for the area now known as Seaholme) to beyond the chain of ponds (Skeleton Creek) both west and south-west.

The old Geelong Road which ran north of Laver-ton marked the northern boundary. Eight miles of this road acted in this capacity. The most northern boundary was where Geelong Road crosses Kororoit Creek.

At the first recorded land sale of 10/12/1850, he bought two sections of his lease, one of 40 acres for £176 ($352) on the west bank of Kororoit Creek in what is now Altona North, and a second section of 630 acres which now covers most of West Altona.

In 1852 he held approximately 16 square miles on lease and owned 975 acres of land.

It appears that at this period anyway, he raised sheep as a woolshed is shown on the 1842 plan.

At subsequent land-sales, he purchased more land so that by 1853, his leases had reduced to about 13 square miles, but he now owned 1616 acres.

Over the next few years, Langhorne's leases were gradually sold to other persons so that Langhorne eventually came to own 2664 acres (about four square miles).

During this period of Langhorne's ownership "The Homestead" which incidentally was known as is also shown on this map. The other allotment was

On consulting Pioneers of Port Phillip we are told that R. W. Wrede was born in 1817. He arrived (in the Colony) in 1838. After a visit to London in 1840 he returned the following year, moved to Altona in 1844. Wrede later moved to Studley Grange in 1850 and died there in 1857.

As the building was indicated in 1842 on the property before Wrede's official occupation two years later it is not clear for whom it was built or what it was like as no trace of it exists today.

It appears that Wrede never owned this land (although he annexed 100 acres north of the original block) as a William Lyall purchased Wrede's lease in 1850. The leased land north of the original block was eventually bought by the Cherrys and absorbed into their properties.

JOHN AUGUST

This man is something of an enigma. According to Pioneers of Port Phillip he obtained a lease at Laver-ton in 1846.

It appears that Lang-horne obtained his grant in 1836 but it was taken over by John August in 1846. Whether this grant was Langhorne's or a different one is not known.

The ruins of "Seaford."

Phelps later, let us now see who were the other early settlers at Altona.

Incidentally the names of the parishers referred to are probably of Aboriginal origin.

Cut Paw Paw appears to be a corruption of the word "Koorit-boork-boork" which is said to mean clumps of "She-oak". Truganina is a variant of Truganini, the name of the last Tasmanian Aboriginal.

Out creek, Kororoit, could be a variation of the word "Koroit" meaning "fire".

ROBERT WILLIAM WREDE

On Robert Hoddle's map of 1842 this man is shown as leasing 125 acres of land adjoining Langhorne's, where Seaholme is today. A building

If it was Langhorne's original grant, August must have only held it for a short time because no mention is made of him in the land rental book of 1851-2-3 nor does he appear to have purchased any land at the sales of 1850. Lang-horne bought his original grant in 1851.

Perhaps someday more will be known about John August.

HENRY MILLER

Had obtained a lease of 1798 acres by 1850, being the area consisting of what is now Wimpy and Slough Estates south of Kororoit Road and north of this road with the eastern boundary touching Kororoit Creek.

The lease reached Geelong Road. The area south of Kororoit Creek was in Langhorne's hand by 1850 and purchased by him in 1852 for £1 ($2) per acre.

eventually bought by the Cherrys between 1859-75. Miller also seems to have held the area that now contains Cherry Lake, but according to a land map, William Cherry took this over very soon after, but exactly when is not certain.

It is very doubtful that Miller ever settled in this area. He became a very prominent leader in the community in later years. He died in 1888.

JOHN PASCO FAWKNER

The co-founder of Melbourne is shown on a map as having selected 640 acres of land south of Kororoit Creek Road where Slough and Wimpy Estates are. However, H. Miller soon obtained the lease, but as stated previously, Langhorne bought the land in 1852.

It is highly improbable that Fawkner settled in Altona.

WILLIAM LYALL

The first we hear of this man is again taken from Pioneers of Port Phillip. Golden Fleece Hotel, Werribee, Altona Bay, 1838-41. The next we hear of Lyall is in the land sale of 10/12/1850 when he purchased R. W. Wrede's 125 acre lease and building for £500 ($1000).

It is not known whether he actually lived on the property. Lyall also bought 35 acres in the Altona North area, but by 1880 Lyall's 125 acre block was in the Phelps' hands. No more is known about this man at present.

WILSMORE

Just over 16 acres of sea-front and adjoining land next to Lyall's purchase was purchased by Wilsmore between 1852-62. At present no more is known about the man or his property except that by 1880 the land was in the hands of the Phelps brothers.

THE CHERRY FAMILY

This family seem to have started their long association with Altona about 1844-5, possibly on Miller's 640 lease which contained the swamp which is known as Cherry Lake.

We know he started to buy land in 1855 with the purchase of two four-acre blocks north of the Geelong railway between Millers Road and Mills Street.

The Cherry Lake area soon came into Cherry's possession and over the next decade or so he bought various tracts of land in what is now Brooklyn, Altona North and east Altona, so that by 1866 he owned approximately 3678 acres.

NEW LIBRARY FOR ALTONA EAST SS

Work on four additional classrooms and a new library has started at Altona East Primary School, and should be completed for the beginning of the next school year.

Basketball girls honored

Girl members of the Altona Methodist Basketball Club packed the Altona council chambers recently to receive congratulations on four of their five teams taking off premierships in the Williamstown and District Protestant Churches Association.

President Mrs. A. Barnes together with the four victorious team captains, Glenys Thompson (A. Grade), Lesley Hyde (A. Reserves), Lyn Faichney (B. Reserves) and Rae Pollock (C. Grade) accepted the certificate of merit on behalf of the girls.

And Mrs. Barnes did not miss the opportunity to politely suggest to the councillors that, although they provided many facilities for sport in the district, they had failed to provide any basketball courts.

"It's only by the good will of schools in the area who allow us to use their courts, that we can play at all," she said.

Acting principal Mr. the parents' committee Murray Edmonds said last week that the school was one of 20 in Victoria of its size which did not have a school library.

"Now all the money can be spent on books and equipment," he said.

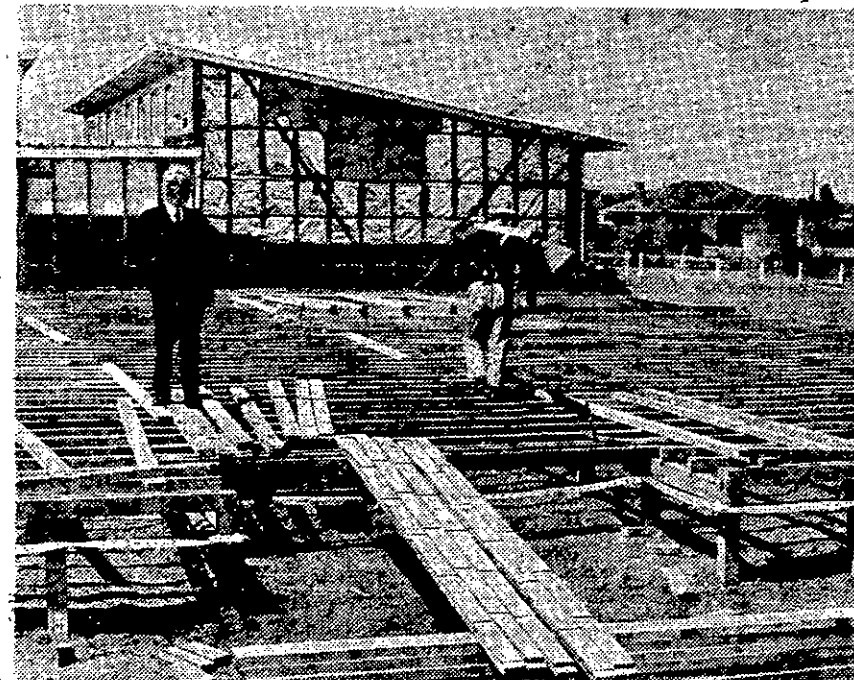

Mr. Edmonds added that the four extra classrooms would also relieve the school's overcrowding.

"Classes have had to be taught in rooms as small as 12 ft. by 10 ft.," he said.

The new buildings are the fourth addition the school has had since it was opened (with 270 pupils) in July, 1960.

Mr. Edmonds had been acting principal at the school for three weeks while principal Mr. C. G. Duffy was away ill.

Mr. Edmonds will take over from Mr. G. Howard as principal at Seaholme next year, while Mr. Howard will become principal at Laverton North.

'Artex' painting demonstration

The Altona branch of the Country Women's Association will have a demonstration of "Artex" painting on Tuesday, November 17, at Mrs. V. Dunne's home, 65 Queen Street, at 1 p.m. There will be a charge of 20 cents.

'BEACH CLEAN'

Three members of the Altona Life Saving Club, who will take part in the local council's "Operation Beach Clean" starting on Sunday, December 13, are pictured inspecting the beach last Friday.

They are from left, treasurer Bob Hazeldine, committeeman Bob Mellett and publicity officer Jack Wall.

The "Beach clean," which will be until April 18, is conducted each year with a large number of people clearing the beach of broken bottles, jagged cans and other debris in order to make it safe for swimming.

Val's Column

Hello Girls,

There is no need to be sore and tender after a day in the sun, girls. Glida have products to correctly protect your skin from the sun's harmful rays. Start right now with Glida Sunbronzer and get that golden tan. A new helpful ingredient, cocoa butter, that conditions your skin and protects the skin from summer dryness, but does not interfere with your suntanning.

When insects really annoy, then it is time to rub on Glida Tan'n'Ban Gel. Convenient in tube form, it lets you tan, while it keeps the skin conditioned, and most important, shuns all insects.

If you envy your best friend's deeper tan, be up with her with that lovely deep tan, after using Glida Sunbody. Turn on glamor by evening with Glida Sunglow — the after sun care condition that leaves you looking and feeling radiant. Then for those spots that missed out on last year's tan, cheat a little and use Glida Sunlike. Just three half hourly applications and presto — a golden you!

Then there is always a sad day for one member of your family — over exposure. So sore, so tender. The easiest, more humane way to bring relief, Calafom spray. Calafom relieves pain and discomfort from sunburn, superficial burns, prickly heat, itchiness and insect bite stings. You will find relief with Calafom — the antiseptic, soothing, cooling spray that relieves irritations.

Could anything be easier, lighter, sunkissed color to your hair — so easy with Sun In. A spray on while in the sun — lightener for your hair. Sun bake while you blonde a little or blonde a lot. If you have a more stubborn to blonde hair, be sure to ask for Super Sun In.

I told you it was an eye opener. Do the utmost for your eyes — wider, brighter, lighter eyes. Highlighting tints that go all around your eye.

This time of year when eye allergies are rather prevalent, be safe and use Revlon Natural Wonder Hypo-allergic paint on eye shadows and liners. Colors, colors, and more soft, delicate opening colors.

Councillor praises track star

Altona Little Athletics star Gary Thompson, who recently broke the 800 metres walk record, received congratulations on his feat from Cr. Ray Richards at the last council meeting.

Cr. Richards pointed out that Gary established a new record 4 min. 6.7 sec., whereas the previous record was 4 min. 46 sec.

"This is only three weeks after the season opened, so who knows what the record will be by the end of the season," he said.

COUNCIL TO CRACK DOWN ON VANDALS

Altona council will crack down on vandalism caused by cars being driven over the council reserve near Cherry Lake.

This follows a report by the council's parks and gardens superintendent (Mr. N. Boyd) at the last general purposes committee meeting that fences had been cut and trees uprooted.

Mr. Boyd said notices placed on the reserve prohibiting vehicles on the area were apparently being ignored.

He recommended that adequate vehicle-proof fencing was needed; that the council's by-law needed to be revised to include the reserve and that council should consider taking legal proceedings against offenders.

Council resolve the City Engineer (Mr. R. Simmons) prepare a report for the finance Committee on the cost of vehicle-proofing the area.

BAD PLANNING CAUSE OF POLLUTION

—David Pope

"Gross social irresponsibility" and "lack of co-ordinated planning" were the causes of serious air pollution in the western suburbs, said David J. Pope this week.

Mr. Pope, who hit the headlines a few years ago over his views on religion, is the priest in charge of St. Luke the Physician Anglican Church in North Altona.

In a letter to the editor, Mr. Pope says: "I write in support of Mr. Currow's public concern over the dangers of industrial pollution in our area (see last week's STAR).

"As a newcomer to Altona, I too, am disturbed about what seems to be a growing menace to both health and property in our community. I know that there are many others, to whom I have spoken, who are similarly concerned.

"In many ways the damage is already done and is irremediable.

"The misplacement and establishment of large industries, mostly foreign owned and controlled, in close proximity to residential areas displays an act of gross social irresponsibility.

"Such lack of co-ordinated planning bespeaks a tragic bankruptcy of any real concern for the social environment and the adverse effects of large industrial complexes on human beings.

"One must therefore reluctantly accept the fact that it is now too late to completely eliminate pollution from the atmosphere, and impossible to eradicate of her forms and manifestations of pollution.

"The question then arises: what is in fact, being done, at both State and municipal levels, to eliminate some of the most glaring and adverse effects of pollution in our community?

"Only a few weeks ago, at 11 p.m. I found one of the rooms in the vicarage filled with some kind of noxious fumes.

"I checked the gas stove, suspecting that it might be leaking.

"I then walked outside to find the entire atmosphere clogged with the same fumes, which were not only extremely unpleasant but possibly harmful.

"What, specifically, is being done?

"How many other citizens are aware of a creeping attack on our environment?

"How can we, the people, take bold and effective action to reduce pollution of this kind?

"Or do we simply have to put up with it, as an unalterable fact of life and wait for some day, perhaps not too distant, when we, like the people of New York, will wake up one morning and find it impossible to breathe?

Yours etc.,
DAVID J. POPE.

Lifesaving club ties lead to marriage

Altona Lifesaving Club members Marlene Anne Happer and Roy Bailey were married at St. Thomas Church of England, Synott Street, Werribee, on October 10.

Marlene is the second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Happer of Burt Street, Altona, and Roy the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bailey of Seves Street, Altona.

The Rev. P. Hill conducted the ceremony.

The groom is chief instructor of Altona Lifesaving Club.

Attendants were Mrs. Lynette Orchard, matron of honor, Miss Robyn Happer, the bride's sister and Karen Kipp, flowergirl.

Best man was Geoff Richards and groomsmen Doug Fry, the groom's brother-in-law.

The reception was held at Altona Lifesaving Club.

Ambulance depot for Altona?

Altona is one of four localities being considered for new civil ambulance depots, Cr. Charlie Carlsson said at the last council meeting.

Cr. Carlsson, who holds the council's health portfolio said local member Mr. Larry Floyd had recently asked questions in the House concerning the civil Ambulance Service.

He said Mr. Floyd was told the service at present had 84 ambulance units in operation, 32 of which were in the city and the others in 10 other municipalities.

"Mr. Floyd was told the committee had an expansion programme on which four new localities for centres were being considered — Caulfield, Braybrook, Eltham and Altona," Cr. Carlsson said.

"We made land available for a new centre some time ago, so a new ambulance centre might not be too far in the future."

Sweetheart's time is up

An appeal from Sweetheart Productions Pty. Ltd. for a 90-day extension to the period allowed for vacating its Melbourne Road premises was turned down by Williamstown council last week.

Mr. E. Saba, manager of Sweetheart Productions Pty. Ltd., wrote to council asking for the time extension as attempts to find suitable accommodation for the business had met with only partial success.

Legal complications had hindered the planned move.

Mr. Saba said his employees would suffer if the company had to stop operating, and he would have trouble meeting business commitments.

In opposing the application, Cr. Leo Hoffmann said there were other areas in Williamstown which were zoned for this type of industry.

Cr. Hoffmann added Mr. Saba could contact the council's Planning Officer about areas in Williamstown where the company could lawfully operate.

VIC CONNOR TO PLAY AT ALTONA

Music for all tastes, including popular, classical and jazz numbers will be played by Australia's top Hammond organist, Vic Connor, when he appears in concert at the Altona Civic Hall next Wednesday, November 18.

Vic, who is musical director of the Hammond Organ Society is an accomplished variety artist and his programme will range from Bach to Bacharach — with his own arrangement incorporating these two in one song.

He will be playing his own B3 Hammond organ, one of the few of this type in Australia. It is the same type that was played by the late Earl Grant — a world renowned organist.

Born in Middlesex, England, Vic showed early interest in the piano and learned the entertainment business in London with contemporaries such as Johnny Dankworth and George Shearing. He worked with orchestras and appeared in a variety of venues — hotels, night clubs, stage shows, films — and made regular broadcasts from the BBC.

Vic came to Melbourne in 1962 where he freelanced in music, made several broadcasts with the ABC and appeared on the radio programme, "the piano and me."

More recently he has been in concerts at the Dendy Theatre, Camberwell Civic Theatre and Moorabbin Town Hall before capacity audiences.

Next Wednesday he will be supported by Ray Martin on bass and Max Walley on drums with the young Footscray vocalist, Maggie Lynne.

The concert has been organised by the Altona Rotoract Club for the Altona District Hospital Appeal.

Tickets at $1.50 each may be obtained from Alan Newton, 398 2451.

Sewerage delay may lead to prosecution

Industrial companies which have not had sewerage connected when it has been available could be prosecuted by Altona council.

Cr. Harry Weaver

council's Board of Works commissioner, said at the last meeting that there were several industrial companies which had sewerage available for two years and had still not connected.

He motioned that the health inspector bring forward a list of all unsewered commercial properties in sewerage reticulation areas to the council's next general purposes committee meeting.

"We should peruse this list with a view to prosecution," he said.

SOCIETY TO SHOW HISTORICAL MAPS

"History of Land Development in Altona" is the title of the exhibition to be held from Saturday November 14 to Sunday November 29, by the Altona Historical Society.

Feature at the exhibition will be the first official map of the Altona area, made by one of Flinders party after their historic mapping of the south coast of Australia.

Maps and items of interest will be displayed in a circle, so the viewer can move clockwise, to follow the pattern.

The exhibition will be held at the Homestead; admission is free and parking available.

The exhibition will be open on: Sundays, 15, 22, 29, from 2 until 4 p.m.; Wednesdays, 18, 25, from 7 until 9 p.m.; Saturdays, 21, 28, from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Since the society has become more active, there is an increasing shortage of storage space and volunteers are needed to help with cataloguing.

Volunteers are asked to ring 398 2090.

Pensioners plan protest rally

A protest rally against the 50-cent rise for pensioners at the last budget was discussed at the Williamstown-Newport branch of the Combined Pensioners' Association's recent meeting.

The rally, organised by the Western Suburbs branches will be held at Footscray Town Hall on November 17 at 1.30 p.m.

A bus will leave Newport Library at 1.00 p.m. in order to transport members who wish to attend the meeting.

Williamstown Council has again granted the use of Williamstown Town Hall on December 17 for the branch Christmas party.

Members are reminded they must attend to collect their own entrance ticket at one of the next two meetings, which are held on November 20 and December 4.

Next meeting will be a trial afternoon at 1.30 p.m.

SPEEDWAY NEWS

Some time back, young Col Patterson decided that he would need to rebuild his hot rod to be successful.

In the last two handicap races at the Melbourne Speedway he has proved his point dramatically.

Starting from the fifty yard mark he took off the fifteen lap handicap races on both programmes.

The track was in perfect condition and Patterson's car went like a bird. There was no answer to his brilliant handling through the packed field.

Veteran Altona hot rodder, Ken Howard had to pull out all stops to hold off the strong Geelong pair, Graham Pitcher and Graeme Roberts in the scratch race.

Howard skipped over the ten lapper in a very nifty 3 min. 14 secs. with Graham Pitcher's hot rod on his tail.

In the fifteen lap handicap later in the programme the positions were reversed and Pitcher won by a half wheel from Howard after a wheel polishing display that went on for eight laps.

A sensation occurred in the main feature race when the leader was spun out by a slower car in the last lap and the win went to Mar. Miller, with Bev Singh second and Viv Laidler into third. — Ray Clarke.

Extra ground is needed

Williamstown council's Reserves Committee will consider a request from the CYMS Cricket Club for an additional ground for their matting cricket side.

The Club has entered a second side in the competition because of the number of players interested. It has asked for either the Market or Hatt Reserves if they are available.

Silver jubilee

Williamstown Youth Centre's Silver Jubilee display will be held on Friday, November 27.

Bookings will be open on Friday, November 13. The club will not compete at West Footscray YMCA on Saturday, November 14.

The centre wishes Norma Bowyer a speedy recovery after her operation at Williamstown Hospital.

CR. WANTS UNIVERSITY FOR ALTONA

Altona councillor Pat Lynch, who holds the council's education portfolio, would like to see Melbourne's fourth university established at Altona.

At the last council meeting he moved successfully that council write to the appropriate body asking that consideration be given to the provision of a university at Altona.

"I know we didn't get far in our pleas for a teacher's college," he said, "But there is plenty of land available for a university, particularly in Truganina."

Year's end for Beta Sigma Phi

Epsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, concluded an eventful year of activity on Saturday evening with a dinner party at the new Top Air Restaurant, Tullamarine.

At their previous meeting three new members were pledged and officers for the year 1971 were installed. The ceremony was conducted by the outgoing president, Mrs. Jan Redwood, assisted by the vice-president, Mrs. Pauline Baker.

The new officers are Mrs. Pauline Baker, President, Mrs. Sheila Hartley, Vice-President, Mrs. Colleen Curran, Correspondence secretary, Mrs. Wendy Hick, Treasurer.

Highlights of the year included a demonstration of oil painting by Miss Lesbia Thorpe, C.A.E. and a very interesting travel talk on New Guinea by Miss Ann Travaire. A very successful wine-tasting was held at the home of Mrs. Wendy Hick and an informal musicale was held, at which several leading local artists contributed their singing and playing talents. Eleven members attended the Beta Sigma Phi Convention in October which was held at the Hotel Australia, Melbourne.

Throughout the year members themselves provided a varied and interesting programme on topics ranging from painting, music and drama, to the art of living. Funds were raised on behalf of the Altona Spastic children and a cheque is being forwarded to this organisation.

CHURCHES CRICKET

Paone brilliant for Altona pressos

With 12 wickets for 51 and 104 n.o., Tony Paone, of Altona Presbyterian under-16 team, was once again the star of the Western Suburbs Protestant Churches Cricket Association.

Overall, bowlers had the call on the day, and many excellent performances were recorded. In "A" Grade veteran Dick Ross skittled Paisley St. Baps with 6/50 to enable Tottenham Baps to gain first innings Treadwell 44, Page 6/49) defeated W'town Congs 74 and 8/169 (McGowan 46, Page 40 n.o., I. Dougal 5/24) on the first innings.

All Saints 49 and 120 (Stonham 47, Carruthers 16, Mackie 4/19) lost outright to Christ Church Newport 6/128 dec. and 3/43 (Johnston 18 n.o.).

(O'Donovan 21 n.o., Mildenhall 8/3) lost on the first innings to St. Eanswythes 5/131 dec. and 2/31.

THANKS FROM NEW MEMBER

This is a very warm and sincere "thank you" to all for your help given to me in the Melbourne West by-election. By now, you will have appreciated the full result — it was a wonderful victory.

Although I was elected, I am fully conscious that my victory was not a personal one. It was a victory not only for me, but for my wonderful friends and supporters and all the people who worked so hard.

I believe the victory was important from our community's viewpoint.

I trust that with the assistance of my Parliamentary colleagues Mr. Hec McIvor M.H.R., Dr. Jim Cairns M.H.R., Mr. Alex Knight M.L.C., Mr. D. Lovegrove M.L.A., Mr. L. Floyd M.L.A., Mr. Jack Ginfier M.L.A. and Mr. R. Fordham M.L.A., I will be able to ensure that your efforts will be rewarded by the constituency and its residents deriving much benefit from the A.L.P. majority we have obtained.

A special thank you for all the congratulations, letters, telegrams, and telephone calls.

And may I also take this opportunity to say how much I appreciate the many "get well" cards and inquiries by phone when in hospital recently. It was wonderful.

Thank you all, H. A. Thomas, M.L.C. for Melbourne West.

ALTONA YOUTH CLUB

has for sale a large amount of timber in sections as taken down from the old Altona Post Office.

The Post Office was purchased by the youth club for the purpose of re-erecting it as a chalet for the teenage members of the club, and this project has been abandoned because land at Buxton where the chalet was to be built, could not be leased from the lands department.

We wish to sell these sections for $350 or best offer. Arrangements to view this timber can be made by telephoning Mrs. Hyde 395 1862 after 5 p.m.

Altona gives poor display

"A" grade: Altona resumed at 3/34 in the second day's play of their match against Telegraph at Domain Reserve. They were chasing Telegraph's total of 187.

The Altona bats failed to put up any sort of a fight, and wickets fell at 4/39, 5/54, 6/61 and 7/82, 8/84, 9/91, and all out for 95.

Telegraph batted in their second innings and at no stage did they show any desire to try and force an outright win. The Altona bowlers were unable to break through and the game was played out in a very dull finish. The only slight interest was in Telegraph's opening batsman N. Robinson nearly getting a century.

Jim Page was the victim of a very interesting decision when he was given out caught off the bowling of Otte. The ball clearly came off Jim's head and flew to third slip. To everybody's amazement the umpire gave him out and Page departed rubbing a bump on the head. One might say that he sure has a wooden head as the umpire must have given him out by the sound of the ball striking wood.

This did not affect Jim as he looked particularly well in the second innings. He sent down 19 overs and captured 5/70 and bearing in mind the small boundaries, this was a good performance.

Altona first innings: Duckett c. Lohmer 17, Hitchcock lbw. K. Hore 0, Paone b. Hore 12, Gram c. Otte 2, Courtois lbw. K. Hore 0, Paone b. Hore 12, Page c. Otte 13, Duff c. Rose 14, Shaw n.o. 3, Dare b. Otte 5, Gray c. Otte 4, extras 3, total 95. Otte 5/43, K. Hore 3/23.

Bowling for Altona: Page 5/70, Dare 1/38, Gray 1/42, Paone 1/10.

An outright victory was scored by Altona Club XI against Newport Baseballers in the second day's play at the weekend.
